SPARKLING

RAVENTOS I BLANC DE NIT BRUT ROSÉ, 2015, Penedès, Spain
Rosé season continues on board—with a sparkling brut made by the Raventos family, which has produced wine in Spain's Catalonia region since 1497. While this is cava country, the organically farmed De Nit has more in common with Champagne: complex citrus and mineral notes and ripe strawberry flavors from a touch of the red grape Monastrell.

WHITE

MATTHIASSEN LINDA VISTA VINEYARD CHARDONNAY, 2016, Napa Valley
California talents Steve and Jill Matthiassen are back with their irresistible Chardonnay, grown on a historic property right behind their house in Napa. This is Chardonnay with lots of fruit but not too much oak—lots of fresh, sunny peach and apple flavors. Perfect for nearly any dish on the menu!

ROSÉ

BEDROCK, ODE TO LULU ROSÉ, 2016, California
A West Coast tribute to the rosés of Bandol, source of Provence's finest wines, and made from nearly century-old vines of Mourvèdre and Grenache in Sonoma and the Sacramento delta. It's intense and crisp, with peach and chamomile accents, and refreshing bright flavors that make it just right for a casual summer glassful—and substantive enough for a meal.

RED

TURLEY, Juvenile Zinfandel, 2015, California
Turley has been California's benchmark for Zinfandel for nearly a quarter-century, and we're proud to feature it on Mint once again! The Juvenile is a fruit-forward version of wines made from Turley's best sites—it's both serious and fun, with plenty of berry fruit and deeply layered spice notes of black pepper and licorice.

SANDHI PINOT NOIR, 2013, Sta. Rita Hills
Sandhi—a project of winemaker Sashi Moorman and sommelier Rajat Parr—makes some of the country's most respected and critically praised Pinot Noir, using fruit amid the chilly hills north of Santa Barbara. Sourced from a handful of top vineyards, this is heady with juicy plum, tamarind and cardamom spice, plus a bright mineral edge.
